TAX CREDIT MORATORIUM

No credit may be claimed by a qualified employee for the period of July 1, 2010 through June 30, 2011, for which the credit would otherwise be allowable. For example:

A) You are a qualified employee who was hired by a qualified employer on or after January 1, 2009 and before July 1, 2010 and will continue employment for at least five years. You are entitled to receive the credit each year of the five-year period. You are not affected by the tax credit moratorium.

B) You are a qualified employee who was hired by a qualified employer on or after July 1, 2010 and before January 1, 2011 and will continue employment through at least 2014. You may receive the credit for tax years 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014. You were not entitled to receive the credit for tax year 2010 due to the tax credit moratorium.

C) You are a qualified employee who was hired by a qualified employer in 2011 and will continue employment through at least 2015. You may receive the credit for tax years 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2015. If you were hired on or after January 1, 2011 and before July 1, 2011 but were no longer employed as of July 1, 2011, you will not receive the credit for tax year 2011 due to the tax credit moratorium.

DEFINITIONS

“Aerospace Sector” means a private or public organization engaged in the manufacture of aerospace or defense hardware or software, aerospace maintenance, aerospace repair and overhaul, supply of parts to the aerospace industry, provision of services and support relating to the aerospace industry, research and development of aerospace technology and systems, and the education and training of aerospace personnel.
