General Instructions

Who May File

Any corporation that overpaid its estimated tax for the tax year may apply for a quick refund if the overpayment is:

- At least 10% of the expected tax liability and
- At least $500.

The overpayment is the excess of the estimated income tax the corporation paid during the tax year over the final income tax liability expected for the tax year, at the time this application is filed.

If members of an affiliated group paid their estimated income tax on a consolidated basis or expect to file a consolidated return for the tax year, only the common parent corporation may file Form 4466. If members of the group paid estimated income tax separately, the member who claims the overpayment must file Form 4466.

Note. Form 4466 is not considered a claim for credit or refund.When To File

File Form 4466 before the 16th day of the 3rd month after the end of the tax year, but before the corporation files its income tax return. Do not file Form 4466 before the end of the corporation's tax year. An extension of time to file the corporation's tax return will not extend the time for filing Form 4466.

How To File

Complete and file an original, signed Form 4466 with the applicable Internal Revenue Service Center (see Where To File below). The IRS will act on Form 4466 within 45 days from the date it is filed.

The corporation must also file Form 4466 with its income tax return. Attach either the signed Form 4466 or an unsigned Form 4466 with the same information stated on the signed Form 4466. If the corporation submits an unsigned Form 4466, it must retain the original, signed Form 4466 in its records.

Disallowance of application. Any application that contains material omissions or errors that cannot be corrected within the 45-day period may be disallowed.

Specific Instructions

Address

Include the suite, room, or other unit number after the street address.

If the Post Office does not deliver mail to the street address and the corporation has a P.O. box, show the box number instead.

Note. If a change in address occurs after the corporation files Form 4466, use Form 8822-B, Change of Address—Business, to notify the IRS of the new address.

Type of Return

Check the box for the type of return the corporation will file.

Other. S corporations that have made protective estimated tax payments in their first tax year should check the "Other" box. Corporations that file Forms 1120-FSC, 1120-H, 1120-ND, 1120-REIT, 1120-RIC, or 1120-SF and tax-exempt corporations that file Form 990-T should also check the "Other" box. Enter the form number of the return to be filed in the space to the right of the box.

Line 4

Enter the total tax from Form 1120, Schedule J, or the total tax from your applicable tax return. See the instructions for your applicable tax return.

Line 8. Overpayment of Estimated Tax

If the application for refund is approved, the overpayment on line 8 may be credited against any tax the corporation owes. The balance, if any, will be refunded.

Excessive refund or credit. If the refund or credit is later found to be excessive, the corporation is liable for an addition to tax on the excessive amount. See section 6655(h).

The excessive amount is the smaller of:

1. The credit or refund or

2. The excess of:

a. The corporation's income tax liability (as defined in section 6425(c)) as shown on its return over

b. The estimated tax paid less the refund or credit.

The IRS will compute the addition to tax and bill the corporation. The addition to tax is figured from the date the refund was paid or credited, until the original due date of the corporation's return. The addition to tax is not deductible for income tax purposes.
