Future Developments

For the latest information about developments related to Form 8909 and its instructions, such as legislation enacted after they were published, go to www.irs.gov/form8909.

What's New

The energy efficient appliance credit has been extended for certain appliances through 2013.

Purpose of Form

Manufacturers of qualified energy efficient appliances (eligible dishwashers, clothes washers, and refrigerators (discussed below)) use Form 8909 to claim the energy efficient appliance credit. The credit is part of the general business credit reported on Form 3800, General Business Credit.

Note. If you are a taxpayer that is not a partnership, S corporation, cooperative, estate, or trust, and your only source of this credit is from a pass-through entity, you are not required to complete or file this form. Instead, report this credit directly on line 1q of Form 3800. See the Instructions for Form 3800.

Amount of Credit

The credit is equal to the sum of the credit amounts figured separately for each type of qualified energy efficient appliance that you produced during the calendar year ending with or within your tax year.

The credit amount determined for any type of qualified energy efficient appliance is the applicable amount shown on Form 8909 for each appliance, multiplied by the eligible production for the appliance.

The eligible production in a calendar year is the excess of:

- The number of appliances of the same type manufactured by the taxpayer in the United States during the calendar year, over
- The average number of appliances of the same type manufactured by the taxpayer (or any predecessor) in the United States during the 2 prior calendar years.

For 2012, the maximum overall credit for all qualified appliances is the smaller of 4 percent of your average annual gross receipts for the 3 prior tax years or $25,000,000 reduced by the amount of the energy efficient appliance credit you (or any predecessor) were allowed for all prior tax years beginning after 2010. The $25,000,000 limit does not apply to clothes washers and Type B refrigerators.

Dishwashers

An eligible dishwasher is a residential dishwasher subject to the energy conservation standards established by the Department of Energy.

Two types of energy saving dishwashers are eligible for the energy efficient credit. The amount of the credit is based on the percentage of energy savings.

Type A. A Type A dishwasher is a dishwasher manufactured in calendar year 2012, which uses no more than 295 kilowatt hours per year and 4.25 gallons per cycle (4.75 gallons per cycle for dishwashers designed for more than 12 place settings).

Type B. A Type B dishwasher is a dishwasher manufactured in calendar year 2012, which uses no more than 280 kilowatt hours per year and 4 gallons per cycle (4.5 gallons per cycle for dishwashers designed for more than 12 place settings).

Gallons per cycle. Gallons per cycle is the amount of water, expressed in gallons, required to complete a normal cycle of a dishwasher.

Clothes Washers

An eligible clothes washer is a residential model clothes washer, including a commercial residential style coin operated washer.

Only one type of energy saving clothes washer is eligible for the energy efficient appliance credit. The amount of the credit is based on the percentage of energy savings.

An eligible clothes washer is a top-loading clothes washer manufactured in calendar year 2012, which meets or exceeds a 2.4 modified energy factor and does not exceed a 4.2 water consumption factor, or a front loading clothes washer manufactured in calendar year 2012, which meets or exceeds a 2.8 modified energy factor and does not exceed a 3.5 water consumption factor.

Top-loading clothes washer. A top-loading clothes washer is a clothes washer with a clothes container compartment access located on the top of the machine and which operates on a vertical axis.

Modified energy factor. The modified energy factor is the modified energy factor established by the Department of Energy for compliance with the Federal energy conservation standard.

Water consumption factor. The water consumption factor is total weighted per-cycle water consumption divided by the cubic foot (or liter) capacity of the clothes washer.

Refrigerators

An eligible refrigerator is a residential model automatic defrost refrigerator-freezer that has an internal volume of at least 16.5 cubic feet.

Two types of energy saving refrigerators are eligible for the energy efficient appliance credit. The amount of the credit is based on the percentage of energy savings.

Type A. A Type A refrigerator is a refrigerator manufactured in calendar year 2012 which consumes at least 30% less energy than the 2001 energy conservation standards.

Type B. A Type B refrigerator is a refrigerator manufactured in calendar year 2012 which consumes at least 35% less energy than the 2001 energy conservation standards.

Note. The "2001 energy conservation standards" are those issued by the Department of Energy effective July 1, 2001. You can find them at 10 CFR 430.32 at www.gpoaccess.gov.

Members of a Group Treated as a Single Producer

All persons treated as a single employer under section 52(a) or (b) or section 414(m) or (o) are treated as a single producer. See section 45M(g)(2)(B) regarding the inclusion of foreign corporations for this purpose. If you are a member of a group treated as a single producer, complete lines 1 through 23 based on the group's total production. On the dotted line to the left of line 24, enter "Group" and in parentheses enter the share of the line 24 amount allocated to the other group members. Subtract the amount in parentheses to determine the amount to enter on line 24.

Certification

No additional information or certification currently is required to claim the credit.

Specific Instructions

Line 20

Enter 4 percent of your average annual gross receipts for the 3 prior tax years. Gross receipts are reduced by returns and allowances. If an entity was not in existence for the entire 3-year period, the average annual gross receipts are based on the period during which the entity was in existence. Gross receipts for any tax year of less than 12 months are annualized by multiplying the gross receipts for the short period by 12 and dividing the result by the number of months in the short period. Any reference to an entity includes its predecessor(s).

Line 21a

The maximum credit base amount for 2012 is $25,000,000. This limit does not apply to clothes washers and Type B refrigerators.

Note. The maximum credit base also applies to credits received from a pass-through entity.

Line 25

The credit for dishwashers, and Type A refrigerators included on line 19 plus the amount included on line 25 for these appliances, cannot exceed the amount on line 21i.

Line 27

Cooperative. A cooperative described in section 1381(a) must allocate to its patrons the credit in excess of its liability limit. Therefore, to figure the unused amount of the credit allocated to patrons, the cooperative must first figure its tax liability. While any excess is allocated to patrons, any credit recapture applies as if the cooperative had claimed the entire credit.

If the cooperative is subject to the passive activity rules, include on line 25 any energy efficient appliance credit from passive activities disallowed for prior years and carried forward to this year. Complete Form 8810, Corporate Passive Activity Loss and Credit Limitations, to determine the allowed credit that must be allocated between the cooperative and the patrons. For details see the instructions for Form 8810.

Estates and trusts. Allocate the energy efficient appliance credit on line 26 between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries in the same proportion as income was allocated and enter the beneficiaries' share on line 27.

If the estate or trust is subject to the passive activity rules, include on line 25 any energy efficient appliance credit from passive activities disallowed for prior years and carried forward to this year. Complete Form 8582-CR, Passive Activity Credit Limitations, to determine the allowed credit that must be allocated between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries. For details, see the instructions for Form 8582-CR.
