2013 Schedule M1R Instructions

Eligibility Requirements

To qualify for this subtraction, you (or your spouse if filing a joint return) must meet the age and disability requirements and the income requirements provided below. If you are married and filing separate federal income tax returns, you are not eligible unless you and your spouse lived apart for all of 2013.

If you meet all the eligibility requirements, complete Schedule M1R to determine how much, if any, you can subtract from your income. If you do not qualify for the subtraction, there is no need for you to complete the schedule.

Age and Disability Requirements

To qualify, you (or your spouse if filing a joint return) must be either:

- 65 years of age or older by the end of 2013, or
- permanently and totally disabled and received federally taxable disability income in 2013. If you did not receive federally taxable disability income, you are not eligible for this subtraction.

You may be eligible if at any time a physician signed the statement in the instructions for Schedule R of Form 1040A or 1040 certifying that you are permanently and totally disabled. If you are a veteran, you may qualify if you received a signed certification from the Department of Veterans Affairs stating that you are permanently and totally disabled.

If you have never filed federal Schedule R but believe you are permanently and totally disabled, ask your physician to determine whether you meet the disability requirements. If so, have your physician sign the statement, and keep it with your tax records. It is not necessary for you to file federal Schedule R with the IRS to be eligible for the Minnesota subtraction.

If you (or your spouse if filing a joint return) meet the age or disability requirement, check the income requirements to see if you qualify for the subtraction.

Income Requirements

If you (or your spouse if filing a joint return) meet the age or disability requirement, use the table below to see if you are eligible for the subtraction.
