- Owned and operated under the authority of a unit of government.

Qualifying research must:

- Be part of a formal program of medical and health care research.
- Be approved in writing by the governing body of the health care provider or hospital claiming the credit.
- Have as its purpose the development of new knowledge in basic or applied science relating to the diagnosis and treatment of conditions affecting the human body.
- Conform with federal regulations and be subject to review and supervision by:
 - an institutional review board, if the research involves human subjects;
 - an institutional animal care and use committee, if the research involves animals subjects; or —a peer review process, if the research is basic research in the fields of biochemistry, molecular biology or physiology.

- Be subject to review by individuals who have expertise in the subject matter but no financial interest in the research and no involvement in conducting it.

Qualifying research does not include:

- Clinical research activities paid directly for the benefit of an individual patient, or
- Routine evaluations for health care methods or products conducted for the purpose of making a management decision.

Qualifying Receipts

To claim the credit, the health care receipts used to fund the research must be subject to the MinnesotaCare tax.

Receipts that are exempt from tax cannot be used to calculate the credit, including exempt receipts under Minnesota Statutes, section 295.53, subd. 1; any amounts reported on lines 2 – 8 of your MinnesotaCare tax return; and any grants, gifts or other funds on which MinnesotaCare tax is not imposed.

Calculating the Credit

The credit is equal to a percentage of the expenditures used to fund the qualifying research and cannot exceed the amount of your MinnesotaCare tax liability for the year. The percentage is determined annually. For 2013, the percentage is 1.5 percent.
