Instructions

Purpose of this form

As a result of legislation signed into law under Chapter 85 of the Laws of 2002. New York State will forgive the income tax liabilities of decedents who died as a result of the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks against the United States. Complete this form to compute the correct amount of tax to be forgiven for the decedent for all eligible tax years.

See Publication 59, New York State Tax Relief for Victims of Terrorist Attacks, for information on the relief provided under Chapter 85 of the Laws of 2002. This publication includes the procedures you will need to follow, in addition to filing this form, to claim the tax relief.

Name and address boxes

Enter the decedent's name and social security number (and surviving spouse's name and social security number, if applicable) in the spaces provided at the top of the front page.

Enter the name, title and address of the person claiming the tax forgiveness on behalf of the deceased taxpayer. This is the mailing address the Tax Department will use for mailing the refund check when this form is attached to the original or amended return filed claiming the tax forgiveness.

Part I — Compute the tax to be forgiven

Use Part I for decedents who filed a return as Single, Married filing separately, Head of household, or Qualifying widow(er). Complete Part I using the line references in Table 1 below.

Line 3 — For individuals filing an amended return (Form IT-201-X or IT-203-X) on behalf of a deceased taxpayer: Transfer the amount from line 3 to Form IT-201-X, line 26, or Form IT-203-X, line 53, as a decrease in the Increase or decrease column; bracket the decrease. The Tax Department will determine the amount to be refunded.

For individuals filing an original return (Form IT-201 or IT-203) on behalf of a deceased taxpayer: Do not transfer the amount from line 3 to an original Form IT-201 or Form IT-203 on which you are claiming the tax forgiveness. The Tax Department will determine the amount to be refunded.

File this Form IT-59 with Form IT-201, IT-203, IT-201-X, or IT-203-X for each year eligible for tax forgiveness.

Part II — Compute the tax to be forgiven

Use Part II for decedents who filed a joint return. However, if both spouses died and they filed a joint return for an eligible year, complete Part I using the total tax amounts on the joint return.

Lines 4 and 6 — Use Form IT-201 or Form IT-203 and their related instructions to compute each spouse's taxable income separately.

Allocate income, deductions and New York addition and subtraction modifications in the same manner they would have been allocated if the spouses had filed separate returns.

Allocate wages and salaries to the spouse who performed the services and received the Form W-2. Business and investment income (including capital gains) are generally allocated to the spouse who owned the business or investment that produced the income. Income from a jointly owned business or investment should be allocated equally between the spouses unless there is evidence that shows a different allocation is appropriate. Allocate business deductions to the owner of the business. Allocate personal deductions, such as itemized deductions for mortgage interest and taxes, equally between the spouses unless there is evidence that shows a different allocation is appropriate.

Lines 5 and 7 — Compute the total tax as if a separate return had been filed. The total tax is the tax that would have been entered on the tax return line(s) shown in Table 1 below if a separate return had been filed. When computing the tax using the New York State and City of New York Tax Tables provided in Form IT-201-I and the New York State Tax Table provided in Form IT-203-I, use the Single or Married filing separately column on the tax tables.

When computing the total tax as if a separate return had been filed, allocate credits and other taxes, if any, in the same manner as they would have been allocated if the spouses had filed separate returns.

Line 11 — For individuals filing an amended return (Form IT-201-X or Form IT-203-X) on behalf of a deceased taxpayer: Transfer the amount from line 11 to Form IT-201-X, line 26, or Form IT-203-X, line 53, as a decrease in the Increase or decrease column; bracket the decrease. The Tax Department will determine the amount to be refunded.

For individuals filing an original return (Form IT-201 or IT-203) on behalf of a deceased taxpayer: Do not transfer the amount from line 11 to an original Form IT-201 or Form IT-203 on which you are claiming the tax forgiveness. The Tax Department will determine the amount to be
