Form NEXUS

What is the purpose of this form? We designed this form to help us determine whether your entity's Montana activities are sufficient to require the payment of Montana income tax. Please do not simply assert the lack of nexus under Public Law 86-272 when completing the questionnaire.

We ask that those who are most familiar with the activities associated with each question complete and sign the questionnaire. The questions regarding employees refer only to those employees, sales representatives, and/or independent contractors who perform activities within Montana, regardless of each employee's domicile or office location. Our questions pertain to the employee's physical presence in Montana; they do not pertain to activities performed outside the state.

What is Public Law 86-272? For a state to tax income earned in interstate commerce, it must be able to show a connection – or nexus – between the state and the activities from which the income is derived. The federal Interstate Income Act of 1959, also known as Public Law 86-272, prevents a state from imposing an income tax on income derived within the state from interstate commerce if the only business activity within the state is the solicitation of orders for tangible personal property, provided that the orders are approved and filled outside the state.

To be exempt from taxation under the protection of Public Law 86-272, the activities of a foreign corporation within the state of Montana must be limited to the solicitation of orders within the state, the orders must be sent outside Montana for approval or rejection, and approved orders must be filled by shipment or delivery from a point outside Montana.

Please note that any Montana sales that are under the protection of Public Law 86-272 remain subject to the throwback rules. These rules can apply if a state does have jurisdiction to impose its net income tax upon the income derived from those sales.

For additional information regarding Public Law 86-272, please refer to Administrative Rules of Montana 42.26.501 through 42.26.511.

Please note: If your activities in the state are not the sale of tangible personal property, you are not protected under the provisions of Public Law 86-272.

Instructions

If you answer "Yes" to any question on this form, you will have to include a brief explanation and any other applicable information in the space provided on the last page. Number each explanation to agree with the part and number of the question answered. Please include additional pages if needed.
