2015 Educational Opportunity Tax Credit Worksheet for Maine Resident & Part-year Resident Individuals - Instructions

This worksheet and the related instructions are for individual taxpayers who have made eligible education loan payments directly to the lender. If your employer paid all your education loan payments directly to the lender, you do not qualify for this credit.

Employers eligible to claim the related credit must complete the Credit for Educational Opportunity Worksheet for Employers.

The educational opportunity tax credit is a component of the Job Creation through Educational Opportunity program, which began in 2008. The purpose of the program is to provide an income tax credit for Maine resident taxpayers who have received an undergraduate degree (associate's or bachelor's) from an accredited Maine college or university and who, after graduation, live, work and pay taxes in Maine.

The credit is based on eligible education loan payments (defined below) paid directly to the lender during the tax year for months during which the individual was a resident of Maine and worked in Maine*. A Maine resident deployed for military service in the United States Armed Forces, including the National Guard and the Reserves of the United States Armed Forces, also qualifies if the individual meets all other eligibility criteria. See 26 M.R.S., § 814(1)(A) for qualifications to be considered deployed for military service.

NOTE: "Worked in Maine" includes an employee who has worked outside Maine for up to 3 months during the Maine residency period of the tax year. An employee who worked in Maine for any part of a month is considered to have worked in Maine for that entire month.

The monthly payment amount eligible for the credit is limited to an upper cap called the benchmark loan payment. For example, if you graduated in 2014, earned all credit hours for a bachelor's degree after 2007 and made monthly payments in 2015 of $375 for qualified loans, the amount you can use to calculate the credit is $363, the applicable monthly benchmark loan payment for individuals graduating in 2014 (see instructions for line 1 below). Using this example, if you made regularly scheduled monthly payments of $375 through the entire year and worked in Maine all year, your credit would be $$363 \times 12 = $4,356$.

For tax year 2015, a graduate eligible for the program is one who:

- Obtained an associate's or bachelor's degree after 2007 from an accredited Maine community college, college or university:
 - all course work completed after 2007 for the degree must have been performed at an accredited Maine community college, college or university, except that:
 - beginning in 2013, qualifying graduates may have earned up to 30 credit hours toward the degree at an accredited non-Maine community college, college or university prior to transferring to an accredited Maine community college, college or university after December 31, 2012 if the credit hours were earned after 2007;
 - was a Maine resident (as defined by education law in 20-A M.R.S. § 12541(5)) while attending a Maine college or university in pursuit of an associate's or bachelor's degree (applies only after 12/31/2007);

- After graduation, is a Maine resident (as defined by Maine tax law in 36 M.R.S. § 5217-D(1)(H)) working in Maine.
 - Beginning in 2015, a self-employed person who is an eligible graduate may qualify for the credit for educational opportunity for individuals. The self-employed person may also qualify for the credit for employers if the self-employed person has employees. For more information on the employer credit, see the Credit for Educational Opportunity Worksheet for Employers.

If loan payments are made by both you and your employer, your credit is limited to the amount you pay directly to the lender. For example, if the required 2015 monthly loan payment was $310 and you paid half ($155) and your employer paid half, your credit would be $155 x 12 months = $1,860. Your employer would also be eligible to claim a credit of $1,860 based on the loan payments they made.

Also, the combined credit for you and your employer may not exceed the benchmark loan payment amount multiplied by the number of months eligible loan payments were made. If the combined credit is based on the benchmark loan payment amount (that is, the benchmark loan payment amount is less than the combined monthly loan payment made by you and your employer), the benchmark loan payment must be prorated between you and your employer. For example, if you graduated in 2014 and the required monthly loan payment in 2015 was $380, of which you paid half ($190) and your employer paid half, the credit for both you and your employer would be based on the monthly benchmark loan payment amount for individuals graduating in 2014 ($363). Because in this example you paid half of the required loan payments in 2015, you may use only half of the monthly benchmark loan payment amount ($181) to calculate your credit. Your 2015 credit, therefore, would be $181 x 12 months = $2,172. Your employer would also be eligible for a credit of $2,172, based on the remaining half of the benchmark loan payment amount.

If both spouses are eligible, both may claim the credit on a married-joint return. The credit may not reduce your Maine income tax due to less than zero, except that, for tax years beginning after 2012, the credit is refundable if your degree is an approved degree in science, technology, engineering or mathematics. Unused non-refundable credit amounts may be carried forward for up to ten years.

Eligible education loan payments are payments made directly to the lender by a qualifying graduate for loans that are part of a financial aid package certified by an accredited Maine college or university. Eligible education loan payments also include payments made for loans associated with earning up to 30 credit hours for the degree at an accredited non-Maine college or university by a qualifying graduate who transferred to an accredited Maine college or university after December 31, 2012; however, the credit will be reduced to 50% for an associate's degree or 75% for a bachelor's degree (see instructions for line 13).

- Only eligible education loan payments made during the part of the tax year during which the individual was a resident of Maine working in Maine qualify for the credit.
- Payments in excess of the required loan payment are not eligible for the credit.
- Payments on a refinanced eligible education loan qualify for the credit as long as the refinanced loan remains separate from any other debt incurred.

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

Line C. If your degree is an approved degree in science, technology, engineering or mathematics ("STEM"), check the STEM degree box. A list of approved STEM degrees is available on the MRS website at www.maine.gov/revenue/forms.

Line D. If this is the first time you are claiming the credit, include a copy of that contract with this worksheet, or, if you do not have a copy of the contract, include a copy of a statement from your school's financial aid office stating the benchmark loan payment for the year in which you graduated.

Line 13. Adjustment for transferring students. If you began your college studies out-of-state after 2007 and transferred to a Maine college after December 31, 2012 and earned no more than 30 credits toward your degree out-of-state, you may still be eligible for a limited income tax credit. Keep a record of the unused credit amount available for future tax years.
