Business of Agriculture Exemption – Annual Certification

To maintain the "Business of Agriculture" exemption, each member of the same family who has inherited real estate for which the business of agriculture exemption was claimed is required to certify to the department that the real estate still qualifies for the "Business of Agriculture Exemption" for a period of seven years beyond the decedent's date of death. If during the seven-year post-death period the real estate ceases to be used in the business of agriculture at any point or does not generate a minimum of $2,000 of gross income in any year, the owner(s) must notify the department within 30 days of such occurrence and will be liable for inheritance tax in the amount that would have been paid on the fair market value of the real estate as of the date of the decedent's death, plus interest. The department will supply the owners with the annual certification form.
