GENERAL INFORMATION

Purpose of SC616

For purposes of new jobs qualifying for credit on TC-4, TC-4SA, or TC-4SB, the amount of credit a business receives for each job created is determined in part by the designation of the county where the business's facility is located. Beginning January 1, 2011, there are four designations for South Carolina counties, from Tier I (lowest credit) through Tier IV (highest credit). County designations are updated each year.

Filing SC616 prior to the creation of new jobs eligible for credit allows a company to "lock in" the current Tier II, III, or IV county designation for jobs created in years 1 through 6 even if the designation changes. However, filing SC616 does not require the taxpayer to use the designation indicated when the actual designation for the year in which the job was created is more favorable to the taxpayer.

SC616 is not effective unless filed with the Department before the initial staffing of a new facility or the expansion of an existing facility.

SC616 is valid for all new jobs created during the original credit period begun by the start-up or expansion of a business. Any increases in new jobs occurring during this original credit period are automatically included in the "lock in" period. The credit created in year one is not affected by any future re-designation of the county in subsequent years after the jobs creation.

Not filing SC616 will not prevent you from claiming new jobs credits.
