GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Note: In order to claim the Hawaii tax credit for research activities, you must also claim the federal tax credit for increasing research activities under section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC).

Note: The tax credit for research activities can only be claimed by qualified high technology businesses. "Qualified high technology business" is defined in section 235-7.3(c), Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Act 270, Session Laws of Hawaii (SLH) 2013 (Act 270), which reenacts the Hawaii tax credit for research activities (TCRA), applies to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2012, and sunsets for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

In particular, Act 270 adopts IRC section 41 as of December 31, 2011, with the further requirement that eligible research expenses do not include research expenses incurred outside of Hawaii. If the amount of the Hawaii credit exceeds the amount of the taxpayer's Hawaii tax liability (if any) for the applicable tax year, the difference is refunded to the taxpayer.

Significantly, Act 270 adopts the base amount as set forth under IRC section 41(c), such that only the increasing incremental amounts are eligible for the credit. Act 270 also requires that in order for a taxpayer to claim the Hawaii TCRA, said taxpayer must also claim the federal tax credit for increasing research activities under IRC section 41. For more information, see Tax Information Release No. 2013-02.

Act 261, SLH 2019, amends the TCRA by extending the credit through 2024, allowing the credit to be claimed for all research expenses incurred in Hawaii without regard to the amount of expenses for previous years (base amount), and imposing an annual cap of $5,000,000, effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

Purpose of Form

Use Form N-346 to figure and claim the TCRA under section 235-110.91, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS).

Who May Claim the Credit

This credit may be claimed by a qualified high technology business (QHTB) as defined under section 235-7.3(c), HRS. Any partnership, S corporation, estate, trust, or cooperative that allocates this credit (including a pro rata share of the credit from a flow-through entity) must attach Form N-346, Form N-346A, and federal Form 6765 to its income tax return. Taxpayers claiming their pro rata share of the credit must also attach a copy of their Schedule K-1s.

When the Credit May Not Be Claimed

This credit may not be claimed if either of the following apply to your tax situation:

- (1) you are not claiming the federal tax credit for research activities under IRC section 41.
- (2) You have no eligible Hawaii research expenses.

Credit Requirements

To claim the credit, the following requirements must be satisfied:

- (1) The credit must be certified by the Department of Taxation. See Form N-346A for more information.
- (2) The credit form (Form N-346), certification form (Form N-346A), federal Form 6765, Schedule K-1s (pro rata share credit claims), and Schedule CR (for tax returns for which Schedule CR is required) must be attached to the taxpayer's income tax return.
- (3) The QHTB must complete an annual survey as prescribed by the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism (DBEDT). See DBEDT's website dbedt.hawaii.gov for more information.

Failure to satisfy these requirements shall constitute a waiver of the right to claim the credit.

Calculation of the Hawaii TCRA

In order for a taxpayer to compute the amount of the Hawaii TCRA, it is necessary for the taxpayer to compute the amount of the federal tax credit for increasing research activities (using federal Form 6765) prior to calculating the Hawaii TCRA, since the federal tax credit for increasing research activities is the baseline upon which the Hawaii TCRA is measured.

Calculation of the Hawaii TCRA involves a straight forward calculation by multiplying the federal tax credit for increasing research activities by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of eligible research expenses for research conducted in Hawaii and the denominator of which is the amount of expenses eligible for the federal tax credit for increasing research activities.

Deadline For Claiming the Credit

The deadline to claim the credit, including amended claims, is 12 months after the close of your taxable year. You cannot claim the credit after the deadline.
