Purpose of form

North Dakota Schedule K-1 (Form 38) is a supplemental schedule provided by a fiduciary of an estate or trust to its beneficiaries. It provides information the beneficiaries may need to complete their North Dakota income tax returns. For this purpose, “beneficiary” includes an owner of a grantor trust.

Resident individual, estate, or trust beneficiary.

If you are a North Dakota resident individual, estate, or trust, your entire distributive share of income from the estate or trust is subject to North Dakota income tax. North Dakota Schedule K-1 was issued to you only to show your distributive share of the estate’s or trust’s North Dakota statutory adjustments and tax credits that may affect your North Dakota income tax return. See Part 3 of the schedule.

Nonresident individual, estate, or trust beneficiary.

If you are a nonresident individual, estate, or trust, only the portion of your distributive share of income from the estate or trust that is derived from North Dakota sources is subject to North Dakota income tax. North Dakota Schedule K-1 was issued to you to show your distributive share of the following items:

- North Dakota income, gains, losses, and deductions. See Part 4 of the schedule.
- North Dakota statutory adjustments and tax credits. See Part 3 of the schedule.
- North Dakota income tax withheld from your distributive share of North Dakota income. See Part 5 of the schedule.
- North Dakota income tax paid on your distributive share of North Dakota income in a composite filing. See “Composite filing election” under “General instructions” and Part 5 of the schedule.

Partnership or corporation beneficiary.

If you are a partnership, C corporation, S corporation, or a limited liability company treated like a partnership or corporation, North Dakota Schedule K-1 was issued to you only to show your distributive share of North Dakota statutory adjustments and tax credits. See Part 3 of the schedule.

If you are a partnership, S corporation, or a limited liability company treated like a partnership or S corporation, and if your commercial domicile is located outside North Dakota, the schedule may also show your distributive share of the following items:

- North Dakota income subject to North Dakota income tax withholding. See Part 5 of the schedule.
- North Dakota income tax withheld from your distributive share of North Dakota income. See Part 5 of the schedule.
- North Dakota income tax paid on your distributive share of North Dakota income in a composite filing. See “Composite filing election” under “General instructions” and Part 5 of the schedule.

General instructions

These instructions explain where to report the information from Schedule K-1 (Form 38) on the North Dakota income tax return.

Tax year. References to a North Dakota form and line number contained in these instructions are references to the form in use for the 2021 calendar year. However, if you file your return on a calendar year basis, but the estate or trust files its return on a fiscal year basis, report the amounts on your return for the year in which the estate’s or trust’s fiscal year ends. For example, if the estate or trust has a fiscal year ending in February 2022, report the amounts from the 2021 Schedule K-1 (Form 38) on your 2022 tax return. The estate’s or trust’s tax year is shown at the top of the schedule.

Composite filing election. If Item H in Part 2 of Schedule K-1 (Form 38) is checked “Yes,” you elected to include your distributive share of North Dakota income in a composite filing by the fiduciary. Ignore any amounts shown in Parts 3 through 5 of Schedule K-1 (Form 38); they are not applicable if you elected to be included in a composite filing. The income tax paid on your behalf by the fiduciary under the composite filing method satisfies your North Dakota income tax filing and payment obligations with respect to your North Dakota distributive share of income from the estate or trust. The North Dakota distributive share of income and composite income tax paid, as shown in Part 5 of Schedule K-1 (Form 38), are provided only for your information. If you later choose to revoke your composite filing election and file your own North Dakota income tax return, follow the instructions to Parts 3 through 5 to transfer the amounts from Schedule K-1 (Form 38) to your return.

Amended Schedule K-1 (Form 38). If you receive an amended North Dakota Schedule K-1 (Form 38) from the fiduciary for the estate or trust, you generally must file an amended North Dakota income tax return to report the revised information, in which case a copy of the amended Schedule K-1 (Form 38) must be attached to your amended North Dakota income tax return. If you previously elected to include your distributive share of North Dakota income in a composite filing, and you are not changing that election, you generally do not have to take any action and should retain the amended Schedule K-1 (Form 38) for your tax records.

If you are a nonresident individual, estate, or trust, lines 22 through 32 of Part 4 show your share of the estate's or trust's North Dakota income, gains, losses, and deductions that you must report on your North Dakota income tax return. Transfer these amounts to your North Dakota income tax return as instructed below based on the type of return you are filing.

If the full amount of any item is not included in your adjusted gross income on your federal income tax return because of limitations on the deductibility of a passive activity loss, capital loss, section 179 deduction, or for any other reason, enter on your North Dakota return only that portion of the item included in your federal adjusted gross income.

Attach a statement to your North Dakota income tax return explaining any difference between the amount shown on North Dakota Schedule K-1 (Form 38) and the amount reported on your North Dakota income tax return.

Note: If you later choose to file your own North Dakota income tax return, you may claim this amount as a tax payment on your return. Attach a copy of the North Dakota Schedule K-1 (Form 38) to your return to support the amount claimed.
