E-Verify Certification

Florida law requires public agencies and private employers that employ 25 or more employees to certify on their first Reemployment Tax report or return filed each calendar year that they use the E-Verify system. E-Verify is an internet-based system operated by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security that allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility of all newly hired employees. Additional information on the free E-Verify system may be found at e-verify.gov/employers.

If the E-Verify system is unavailable for three business days after the first day that the new employee begins working for pay, an employer must use the Employment Eligibility Verification (Form USCIS I-9) to verify employment eligibility.

In the absence of a written agreement or understanding with a client company, an employee leasing company must certify use of the E-Verify system on the first return or report filed within a calendar year.

The following definitions apply to the certification requirement:

Public agency - Any office, department, agency, division, subdivision, political subdivision, board, bureau, commission, authority, district, public body, body politic, state, county, city, town, village, municipality, or any other separate unit of government created or established pursuant to law, and any other public or private agency, person, partnership, corporation, or business entity acting on behalf of any public agency.

Employees - Individuals filling a permanent position who perform labor or services under the control or direction of an employer that has the power or right to control and direct the employee in the material details of how the work is to be performed in exchange for salary, wages, or other remuneration. The term “employee” does not include an individual hired for casual labor which is to be performed entirely within a private residence, or an independent contractor, as defined in federal laws or regulations, hired to perform a specified portion of labor or services.

Employers or employee leasing companies required to certify use of E-Verify must sign, date, and enter their title on the first Reemployment Tax report or return filed each calendar year if the entity he or she represents utilizes the E-Verify system or Form USCIS I-9, if E-Verify is not available within three days of the new hire, to verify employment eligibility. Entities required to verify employment who don’t do so are subject to a fine.

Social security numbers (SSNs) are used by the Florida Department of Revenue as unique identifiers for the administration of Florida’s taxes. SSNs obtained for tax administration purposes are confidential under sections 213.053 and 119.071, Florida Statutes, and not subject to disclosure as public records. Collection of your SSN is authorized under state and federal law. Visit floridarevenue.com/privacy for more information regarding the state and federal law governing the collection, use, or release of SSNs, including authorized exceptions.
